

Hookers for Jesus Founder Offers Relationship Advice for Single Ladies

Annie Lobert, founder of Hookers for Jesus, shared some powerful advice for all the single ladies on the lookout for a husband.

“It sounds to me like God is saying, pretty much, that we shouldn’t be hunting,” Lobert says in a recent video posted to her Facebook ministry page.

“Now naturally and spiritually, our true love is Jesus,” Lobert says. “But before that could happen in my life, I had to, No. 1, stop being desperate to find a husband. In other words, that had to continue to not be an idol in my life. When you make finding a husband an idol in your life, let me tell you something, you are going to find the wrong thing.”

And that’s just the beginning. Take a look.
