

How is Noah Connected with the Nephilim and the End Times?

 L.A. Marzulli, an internationally recognized specialist on the Nephilim, says believers today should pay special attention to Matthew 24, when Jesus warns us that these last days will be “like the days of Noah.

In essence, believers should be waiting for Jesus’ return with great anticipation.

“As were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. For as in the days before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day Noah entered the ark, and did not know until the flood came and took them all away, so will be the coming of the Son of Man” (Matt. 24:37-39).

How is this connected to the Nephilim, whom he has studied for more than 30 years?

As logic would dictate, with only eight people on the ark, the Great Flood described in the Bible in Genesis chapters 6 through 9 wiped out the rest of humanity and all soulless creatures associated with humanity.

That includes the Nephilim, who were the product of copulation between divine beings (the sons of God and human women, the daughters of Adam). The Nephilim were known as great warriors and biblical giants (Num. 13:33).

Considering what happened in the Great Flood, how could the Nephilim reappear after the destruction of the earth, as internationally recognized specialist on the Nephilim, L.A.

Marzulli, says?

Second Peter 2:5 reads, "and if He did not spare the ancient world, but saved Noah, a preacher of righteousness, with seven others, when he brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly ..."

Marzulli says the "ungodly" Nephilim, who had been "genetically tampered with on some level, were all destroyed in the Great Flood. Scripture says Noah was pure and all his generations," Marzulli told Charisma News' John Matarazzo.

That, Marzulli says, paved the way for Jesus to come to this earth with purity in His bodily form to save all of mankind from its sins.

For the Nephilim, or "fallen angels," to return, however, Marzulli says there had to be a "second incursion" much like the first when they copulated with the daughters of Adam.

"After the flood, they do exactly the same thing. They do it over and over and over again. How do we know that? The Bible says when the sons of God saw the daughters of men and they went into them and had children by them. The Nephilim were on the earth in those days and also afterwards when the sons of God took wives from the daughters of men.

"Moses is writing this thousands of years after the event. He could have just said the Nephilim are on the Earth in those days, period and let it go. But he doesn't do that. Instead, he says the Nephilim were on the earth in those days. What days? The days of Noah and also afterward, when the sons of God came down and took wives. It's a second, third and fourth incursion."

Echoes of the Nephilim's influence are discovered in various events throughout history. Their genetic contamination has spread through corrupt cities like Sodom and Gomorrah and through the Tower of Babel.

In modern times, their influence is spread through occultic practices and rituals, including sexual components, which hint at the ongoing manipulation and initiation by dark forces.

Marzulli says it all returns to the premise of Genesis 3:15, where the seed of the woman—Eve—will be at enmity, war, with the seed of the dragon—Satan.

“Genesis 3:15 is the gateway to the rest of the biblical prophetic narrative,” Marzulli says. “The Messiah coming from the woman will crush the dragon’s head. That’s the protocols of the war. That’s the prophecy; the first prophecy that we really have in our Bible.”

Marzulli explains Noah and his connection to Jesus and the end times, beginning with an intriguing question.

“Why does he single out the days of Noah?” Marzulli asks. “He goes back to the days of Noah and He expects us to just understand what He means. At the time, when Jesus is talking, there is no ‘Sethite’ theory where the line of Seth married the hoochie mamas of Cain. That comes in the fourth century.”

Marzulli says it is “complete conjecture” on his part, but this is a theory that he says makes complete sense.

“Josephus talks about the bones of the Nephilim are openly on display at the time of Jesus. They’re not near the temple because that would defile it, but they are in Jerusalem someplace, so it is possible when Jesus comes into the outer court, outside the temple, He goes and He turns and there are giant skeletons. Then He says it will be like the days of Noah when I return.”

Today’s culture continues to explore and talk about the Nephilim and their connection to the end times. Watch this video and listen to more of what Marzulli has to say about this fascinating subject.

For another compelling perspective on this subject from deliverance ministers Mike Signorelli and Alex Pagani, read the Charisma News article 5 Biblical Principles for Discussing the Nephilim with the accompanying video. {eo}

Shawn A. Akers is the online editor at Charisma Media.