

How Satan Is Using Fear to Try to Ruin You

The enemy uses fear to deceive, distort and ruin us. By acting on the promises of God, you can be a victor, not a victim. Sarah Bowling shares about when she was bound by fear and learned that if you run from it, fear will chase you your whole life. Gideon, in Judges 6, was a man who wrestled with fear. An angel appeared and said, “the Lord is with you, oh mighty man of valor” (Judg. 6:12b). God speaks to us in the midst of fear and speaks to our divine blueprint of who He made us to be. Be honest with God, and He will encourage you to step away from fear toward freedom and divine destiny.

Just because the world goes crazy around us doesn't mean we have to join them. How to Keep Your Head on Straight in a World Gone Crazy by Rick Renner was written out of concern for moral confusion in the Western world, particularly America. Like a rudderless ship, this end-times generation is being tossed about on a sea of satanic deceptions. How can we navigate the tempest? We need to anchor ourselves in Scripture and learn to challenge unbelievers, think rationally, be discerning, pray for grace and more.

Do you need hope in your life? Are you having difficulties in your soul and emotions? Conversation in Heaven is a book filled with hope. Abigail Holt-Jennings wrote it as act of worship and gratitude toward the Lord. No stranger to suffering, Abigail endured a painful divorce, the loss of several loved ones, a miraculous healing from terminal cancer and more. She knows the depths of valleys where depression, emotional pain, loss and discouragement can cause us to believe there is no hope. Abigail has emerged to the mountaintop, experiencing supernatural healing and wholeness in every area of her life, and she'll help you to experience hope too.
