

How the Horrific Tragedies Will Prophetically Fulfill John 17

Could the escalating violence and terrorism around the world be the catalyst to bring Jesus back? Yes, Revelation in the News host Zach Drew says, but perhaps not in the expected way.

“What Satan is doing in the dark is often an attempted counter to what God is trying to do in the Spirit,” Drew says.

Rather than panic, now is the time for the church—for every denomination around the world—to come together in one Spirit and mind, according to John 17:20-23.

“There is a day coming here on earth before Christ returns that true unity will exist in the church,” Drew says. And to do that, together we must fight injustice.

Watch the video to see how.