

How This Ministry Does More Than Put a Band-Aid on the Issue of Homelessness

“If all we do is hand out a meal, we are not healing an identity issue, we’re reinforcing it. When they are dependent on a system, their very identity is being robbed.”

Watch as founder and executive director Rhona Mahl shares the story of Portland, Oregon’s Breaking cycles and its ministry to homeless youth in this video from KNMT Portland.