

How to Find Stability When Life Is Out of Control

Have you ever felt out of control? I have!

When this happens, we have to run to the one who is in control. God is always in control. No matter what traumatic situation you're in. No matter what the kids are doing or not doing. No matter what your health is like. God is in control.

We must put our complete faith in Him. He has a way of escape. He has the solution. He has a plan! Whatever has happened, God knew it before it happened.

He is waiting for you to surrender and realize you need Him. We need Him to lead us out of the mess. He has the answer!

Think of it this way: The devil wants you to be in emotional bondage, but God wants you free. How can we be free when hearing a bad report? Trust God!

Place Him before that situation, knowing His name is above every name. His name is above the name sickness! His name is the name above disappointment! He is above it all!

Seek Him first before you decide or do anything. He is your answer and your peace. It is He Who will give you rest.

He is in control! He knew it would happen before it happened. He knew it would be said before it was said. He knew they would leave before they left. So stand still and see the salvation of the Lord. He's got you!

He is in control. So you don't have to be. Give it to Him!
