

Jennifer LeClaire Urges Prophetic Intercessors to Let News Spur Them to Prayer

With news headlines in this hour, many people's hearts are failing them because of fear (Luke 21:16). In other words, they are fainting in the day of adversity because fear has attacked their faith.

This is now time to draw back from the battle. Even if you can't discern what is going on the spirit prophetically, you can see with your natural eyes what the enemy is doing through media headlines. Instead of stopping up our ears and closing our eyes, we can hit our knees in prayer and cut off the enemy's plans at the pass.

Indeed, the enemy always overplays his hand, and the media do a fine job tipping off what the prince of the power of the air is planning next. In this video, I urge you to see what is going on behind the headlines for what it is—and pray. Check it out!
