

Jesus Is Asking, 'Who Do You Say I Am?'

In this powerful episode of Live Your Best Life, host Liz Wright shares incredible truths from the Word of God that will strengthen you and increase your confidence in God's protection and sovereignty. As you listen, you will be encouraged to rest in the simple yet profound reality of who Jesus is as King and Creator.

Everything stolen from Adam at the point of the Fall has been restored by Jesus on the cross. The divine mandate to steward and protect the earth and co-create with Christ has been returned to us! Liz reads a chapter from her international bestselling book, Reflecting God, about how all things are restored to us because Jesus has overcome the world. It is now your union with Him that makes you fruitful.

Today you can awaken to your stature of who you are in Christ as you dive deeper into the revelation of who He is. Just as He asked Peter, "Who do you say I am?" He is asking you right now. This is all because He desires to reveal Himself to you and flood you with greater revelation. Everything changes when you simply look at Jesus with your heart and believe He is who He says He is.

Stand on the rock of Peter's revelation, that He is "the Anointed One, the Son of the living God!" (Matthew 16:16b, TPT) and move forward in a greater level of power and authority. This anointed one now lives within you! When you see Jesus as He truly is, that reality becomes the foundation for your entire life. Not even death can overpower the authority you have in Christ. It is time for the majesty of God to come into full expression through your life as you spend time face to face in His presence. {eoa}
