

Jim Bakker Responds to Those Who Mock Preppers

From the literal days of Noah in Genesis 6 to the end of time Jesus prophesied in Matthew, God told His people to prepare, Jim Bakker says.

And he's not the only one.

Revelation in the News host Zach Drew counters arguments against failing to prepare, including those who insist God will supernaturally provides from heaven each and every time we are in want or need.

"If 10 different verses in the Old Testament deal with food, only, let's say for example, one of those verses deals with God supernaturally providing the food," Drew says. "The other nine deal with God supernaturally providing through action."

So what do we do? Watch the video to see.