

Jim Bakker's Vision: 'I Saw a City on Fire'

Pastor Jim Bakker says he knows the difference between regular dreams and God dreams.

Which is precisely why a recent vision has him so tormented.

"I saw a city on fire, billowing smoke, I could see smoke all around the city, as the city was on fire completely," Bakker says.

"The unique thing, it was belching out, part of the smoke was pitch black when tires burn rubber. ... I don't know what the black smoke was, but it was a horrible fire. Cars burning, oil tanks exploding. There was extreme black smoke, toxic, so bad that people were fleeing the city."
