

Joseph Prince: There Is Supernatural Healing Power in Taking Communion Daily

We need to believe for supernatural healing from God, says Pastor Joseph Prince, and one way he says he has seen that is through partaking in Communion—specifically, consuming the elements of bread and wine.

“A lady wrote into us talking about her husband who has been suffering from Alzheimer’s for a number of years, and the doctor says, you know, conditions like this can only get worse. But ... they began to partake of the Lord’s Supper every day. And she began to see a distinct improvement until the doctors themselves verified that he’s free from Alzheimer’s.”

One of the reasons we aren’t seeing more health today is because we live in a fallen world and are relying on natural remedies rather than having faith in our supernatural God, Prince says on the “Charisma Connection” podcast on the Charisma Podcast Network.

“If we look to a natural means of receiving health, we have no answer against that which is causing diseases, which is many times caused by demons and evil spirits, and also because of the fall of man to sin.”
