

Just-Released Kim Clement Prophecy: France Will Rise Up to Destroy the 'Beast of the East'

In a 2010 prophecy posted to YouTube this week, the deceased Kim Clement prophesied war in Europe, particularly in France.

"There was a war in the heavenlies with the Prince of Persia. There was a battle going on, as there is today. A war will take place. It shall be short-lived because, as France destroyed the power of invasion of the Middle East during the 17th century, so shall they rise up and destroy the invading forces of the beast of the east," Clement says.

"There will be a second reformation in Europe. God says, 'I will begin in France. All the tribes of the earth will be affected by the sound.'"

Watch the video to see more.