

Kim Clement's Incredible New Year's Prophecy

Are you ready for what God will do in this new year?

In a video from Dec. 31, 2014, the late Kim Clement gave a prophecy for the coming year that still is ringing true within our world a decade later.

"There is a sound that is coming, that the world has never heard before. On the day of Pentecost, there was a sound that came, and My church was born," Clement said. "That sound destroyed the powers that would chain them, that would bind them. That sound would be stolen through the ages. But there was always a remnant who kept the sound safely. And then at the right time it would be released."

Clement prophesied that this piercing sound would rise again, bringing freedom to the modern church.

"And I shall cause a people that have said 'We refuse to accept the judgment of our enemies upon our souls...' God says, 'Today, there is a sound of freedom that my prophets have heard. A freedom that I will release. And in this next year, you shall be surprised at how much liberty and freedom shall come.'"

Clement's prophecy also rebuked the nation of Greece, and spoke of victory for Israel. As he spoke, he also discussed of a generation that was chosen to be preachers who would bring back revival and godliness into the church.

"I have chosen from amongst this generation children of another kind," Clement prophesied. "Preachers of this generation that will literally bring back what has been lost in the church. I shall bring back the light of the miraculous."

It is through this generation, one that has experienced persecution and death, where Clement prophesied life and salvations would come from, including for revival to sweep across Korea.

"As you take a step into this year in the middle of this decade, where I have promised the deliverance from debt, do you believe it?" Clement prophesied.

Ten years later we are now stepping into the middle of a decade again. Let's continue to pray and agree for the Lord to bring revival to the church, across the world, using the next generation as the hands and feet of Christ.
