

LA Marzulli Warns of the Vatican's End Times UFO Scheme

In a wide-ranging discussion with Charisma Media about the UFO phenomenon and the Vatican's involvement, prophetic researcher and author L.A. Marzulli offered a sobering warning about what he calls the coming great deception.

"They're just repackaging it with a new pope," Marzulli said, referring to recent Vatican statements about extraterrestrials. "All these people are in lockstep with one another... Pope Leo comes out, 'Well, if there's extraterrestrials, we're going to baptize them.'"

Marzulli explained that the UFO phenomenon is not what most people assume. "These are interdimensional entities, which have a very nefarious agenda and are here to usher in the time of the great deception," he said. He emphasized that these entities are not extraterrestrials, but fallen angels creating hybrid beings as part of a spiritual and global deception. "Even the elect would be deceived if that were possible. Men fainting from what is coming upon the earth," he added, quoting Jesus in Matthew 24.

Highlighting historic events and timelines, Marzulli traced the emergence of UFO sightings, abduction phenomena, and other paranormal activity back to the 1940s and '50s. "After Israel declares statehood, what do you get? Abduction phenomena, UFOs, crop circles... everything begins to take off."

Marzulli also critiqued modern media coverage of space objects like 3I/ATLAS, describing the hype as a form of preparatory programming. "According to what I read in the last 48 hours, if it was going to do something... it hasn't. The thing hasn't changed direction, it hasn't slowed down. So what is Avi Loeb really doing? He's prepping everybody to what they know is coming."

The researcher is equally skeptical about claims from the Catholic Church and Vatican astronomers. "The Church doesn't understand what they're looking at," he said. "The Pope says, 'We'll baptize an alien no matter how many tentacles it has.' Really? Look, folks, this is the coming great deception."
