

Lance Wallnau Releases Shocking Prophecy About North Korean Breakthrough

Business entrepreneur Lance Wallnau issued several major prophetic words, including the rise of fathers and the breakthrough of North Korea.

"I pray that fathers are rising up again that are like the Founding Fathers. May God do the business of finding fathers who will restore education, restore arts and ... the media, communication, publication in the business arena. I'm tired of these wealthy people that have no conscience controlling and stewarding the wealth of and valves of increase. No! In Jesus' name, it's got to stop. God is looking for Founding Fathers; he's finding fathers," Wallnau says in a video posted on the Fourth of July.

The more Wallnau prophesied, the more he received about North Korea, which recently tested ICMB missiles and put multiple countries on high alert.

"You know something is going to break through in North Korea. You know Donald Trump is going to do something ... because he's anointed to loose the belts of kings. That means he's anointed to disarm his adversaries. Isaiah 45 anointed him. Donald Trump's going to do something with North Korea. Nobody's talking about it, but we ought to be, as a Christian community, aware that's the next big global event," Wallnau says.
