

Larry Tomczak: If We'd Known Hunter's Corruption, Joe Biden Wouldn't Be President

"Whoever walks in integrity walks securely, but whoever takes crooked paths will be found out" (Prov. 10:9, NIV).

The wheels of justice turn slowly but surely. Consequences don't usually come immediately, but they will come eventually.

I sometimes watch a crime investigation program. (My wife won't watch because she says it's "too intense.") A week ago, I saw an episode where the mystery was solved, but 30 years later! The culprit had something in common with Hunter Biden.

Exposure of Wickedness

In the midst of our current "shaking" we're witnessing a soft explosion of evil being exposed. Radical LGBTQIA+ activists at Disney were caught on video with a shocking agenda; Hillary's campaign associate was convicted for illegally spying on Trump; the Democratic Party and their media allies had their three-year bogus "Russian collusion" story obliterated; voter fraud in state after state has been uncovered along with Facebook's Mark Zuckerberg pouring over $400 million into Democratic cities to harvest votes; and now the cover-up of Hunter Biden's computer revealing corrupt dealings has finally been acknowledged by even the New York Times, Washington Post and CNN!

Joe Biden is on video adamantly declaring he had absolutely no involvement with his son's business dealings. The New York Post on April 6 explicitly detailed 12 examples where he did.

Longtime liberal commentator Bill Maher now says left-wing media hid Hunter Biden's laptop story because it didn't fit their narrative! Bob Iger, former president of ABC Television, told Jon Stewart in a podcast that “People are not held accountable for inaccuracies” and perceptive people sniff the tie to the exploding exposé of Hunter’s long-ignored lawlessness.

What Has Hunter Done?

When Joe Biden was vice president under Obama and point man for China, Russia and Ukraine, he became involved in a clandestine, corrupt mega-million-dollar global influence-peddling scheme led by his son.

Hunter capitalized on connections with his father, whom he called “the big guy,” to make big bucks. His business partner, Tony Bobulinski, admitted this unashamedly and publicly when the computer revealed “the big guy got a piece.”

Joe used his position to facilitate dealings for his son as he took him with him on Air Force Two. Hunter enriched himself lavishly through placement on boards and in prestigious positions although he had zero experience. He was put on a Ukrainian energy board getting $50,000 monthly! When Trump asked Zelensky to check into any suspicious dealings, the Dems used this to impeach him, then Joe bragged on video that he got the Ukrainian official who was looking into Hunter’s activities fired or they wouldn’t get a billion-dollar loan.

Six million dollars was wired from a China energy company to a family partner of Hunter’s. Another big deal uncovered in the laptop was “10% held by H (Hunter) for the big guy.”

All this came to light two years ago when the New York Post broke the story, although it was banned by the corrupt corporate media as well as social media like Facebook. It was a legitimate story but ignored and blacked out lest Americans discover the story and back away from Biden in the upcoming election.

Do you recall in the final and only debate that Joe participated in that he was asked about what was going down with his son and his computer? He categorically denied the entire story, labeling it more Russian collusion. He said he was told by experts that none of this was valid. Say it ain't so, Joe! The jig is up.

Hunter Himself

Hunter Biden is 52 years old and currently lives in a lavish home in posh Malibu where our tax money pays for his $30,000 monthly Secret Service protection. He purchased a $142,000 sports car and is painting pictures that he's able to hawk for half a million dollars each. Hunter is a recovering cocaine and alcohol addict, writing in his memoir Beautiful Things that he previously was "smoking crack every 15 minutes." He's wealthy, divorced and has an out-of-wedlock little daughter born to an Arkansas stripper (he initially denied this but was caught). He admits he was discharged after one month from the Navy after his dad swore him in at the White House.

Hunter probably wishes he was more careful with that infamous laptop. He said there was some water damage so he dropped it off at a nearby Wilmington, Delaware, shop but never went back to get it. The repair man took out the hard drive and made a copy for Rudy Giuliani. The FBI got involved, but the agent later said he "didn't know where it was at."

And, of course, the media strangely wasn't interested and simply ignored the whole story – except for the courageous editors at the New York Post.

History Repeats

In the 1870s President Ulysses S. Grant was exposed in numerous scandals and shady business dealings. He appointed 40 family members to well-paying positions. The corruption exposed in his administration came to be known as "Grantism."

A hundred years later, in the 1970s, Vice President Spiro Agnew was suspected, investigated and discovered to have taken lucrative kickbacks from contractors when he was Maryland's governor and later became vice president. Facing a felony, he resigned in disgrace (it wasn't tied to Watergate). At the time, I worked across the street from the White House doing as I do today: praying for ungodly government officials to be exposed and then expunged.

The FBI is investigating what's been exposed and is accumulating facts for a grand jury hearing, which can take months. Hunter faces charges of money laundering and violation of tax and foreign lobbying laws. If he's convicted, they'll turn to Joe Biden to investigate if he also committed a crime.

If Hunter is convicted, Joe could pardon him before a trial begins. But if that happens, Joe would be done for what would be perceived as a clear cover-up. Behind the scenes, the Dems don't want Joe to run again because of his dismal performance and the bloodbath the party expects in the midterms. The media senses what's coming and is getting out there ahead of the story. That's why this is emerging at this time.

Here's the deal: These events are happening because America is under judgment and the people of God are praying fervently for our nation and government officials (1 Tim. 2:1-3). Let's pray for the salvation of those involved as we heed God's warning in this sobering time:

"Do not rejoice when your enemy falls, and do not let your heart be glad when he stumbles; lest the LORD see it, and it displease Him, and He turn away His wrath from him" (Prov. 24:17-18, NKJV).
