

Left Behind Film Delivers at the Box Office, Extends Theatrical Run

Due to overwhelming audience demand, Fathom Events has extended the theatrical run for Left Behind: Rise of the Antichrist following a successful opening week. The film will remain in select theaters nationwide through Feb. 8, 2023 with the potential of adding even more future dates at select locations.

The film opened in theaters nationwide on Jan. 26 and exceeded box office expectations, surpassing the $3 million mark, and maintaining top per screen averages each night, to finish seventh overall at the box office this weekend.

"The reaction to this film has been overwhelming," said actor and director Kevin Sorbo. "Thank you to those who bought tickets and wrote thousands of positive reviews on social media. If you listen to what people have been saying after watching Left Behind, you'll know this is a movie with an urgent message that the world needs to hear."

Starring Kevin Sorbo ("God's Not Dead," "Soul Surfer"), Neal McDonough (Minority Report, "Arrow," "Timeline"), Corbin Bernsen ("Psych," "Major League," "The Resident"), Bailey Chase ("Longmire," "Saving Grace"), Greg Perrow ("Actor for Hire," "Those Who Kill"), Sarah Fisher ("Degrassi: The Next Generation," "Roxy") and Sam Sorbo ("Let There Be Light," "Hope Bridge," "Miracle in East Texas"), Left Behind: Rise of the Antichrist is the next chapter of the mega-hit Left Behind

film franchise, based on the 80 million-copy New York Times bestselling book series of the same name. The new film delivers an updated storyline from the 2014 Left Behind movie starring Nicolas Cage and shows how today's events set the stage for the return of Christ and the coming apocalypse.

 After millions of people vanish and the world falls into chaos, the only light is a charismatic leader who rises to become head of the U.N. But does he bring hope for a better future? Or is it the end of the world?

Left Behind: Rise of the Antichrist is directed by Kevin Sorbo and written by Paul Lalonde, John Patus and Jessica Parker. It is produced by Paul Lalonde, Michael Walker, Ed Clydesdale, James Quattrochi, Jason Wan Lim and John Duffy in association with AMCOMRI Entertainment Inc., Polyscope Pictures and Stonagal Pictures Inc.
