

Live Revelations: On Stage, Off Stage, Backstage

By Third Day, Essential Records.

Christian rock band Third Day decided to give fans a close-up glimpse of their lives on the road. Tai Anderson, the band's bass player, calls this DVD-CD release an "all access" pass. "When we say, 'all access,' we really went to the extreme with it," Anderson notes. "You'll see Mac, Mark, David, me living day-to-day with the people we call our 'family on the road' and just being ourselves; sometimes intense, sometimes funny-but always real." Hear the guys' discussions before and after performances. Watch as they balance the demands of life on the road and their relationships.

As if this weren't enough, Third Day included nine live recordings, including "Cry Out to Jesus," "Call My Name," "Slow Down," "Othertside" with steel-guitar master Robert Randolph, and "When Love Comes to Town" with Randolph, Jars of Clay and Switchfoot. And as a bonus, fans will also enjoy the "Revelation" music video, outtakes and more.

These veterans certainly know life on the road; they've been doing it for 15 years. And they've had to learn how to balance the constant demands, family life and ministry. This unique glimpse will help fans appreciate their sacrifice and will serve as a reminder to pray for them as they continue to follow God's plan for their lives.
