

‘Malcolm in the Middle’ Star Frankie Muniz Declares He’s ‘Proud’ to ‘Live for Jesus’

Former “Malcolm in the Middle” star Frankie Muniz – who has since left his career in Hollywood and is now a racing professional – took to social media Sunday to say he is “proud” to “live for Jesus Christ.”

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

“Happy Sunday!” wrote the 39-year-old celebrity in a post to his X account. “I am proud to say I live for Jesus Christ. Who’s with me?”

Happy Sunday! I am proud to say I live for Jesus Christ. Who’s with me?

– Frankie Muniz (@frankiemuniz) September 21, 2025

At the time this story was published, the post had been “hearted” more than 93,000 times and had been responded to and shared thousands of times.

Among those who praised Muniz’s post was “Full House” star Candace Cameron Bure, who wrote, “Let’s GO!!! Praise God.”

Muniz, who stars in “Malcolm in the Middle: Life’s Still Unfair,” an upcoming Disney+ reboot of the original sitcom, has been bold about sharing his Christian faith.

In January, for example, he posted a funny video of himself to Instagram, singing along to the worship song “Build My Life” by Pat Barrett before being pulled over by a police officer.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

“Hilarious contrast of feeling good, praising God, to being pissed off in the matter of minutes,” he wrote in the caption of the video. “All part of his plan, so you have to trust the good and the bad. I was going through old photos and videos on my phone and I found these from 5 years ago.”

To read the full story, visit our content partners at CBN News.

Reprinted with permission from . Copyright © 2025 The Christian Broadcasting Network Inc. All rights reserved.