

Marilyn Hickey on Strength and Discernment in Spiritual Warfare, Growing in Your Gifts

We all have areas in our lives where we need to prevail—to overcome—in areas such self-control, in our work or with health issues. Susie Larson wrote Prevail: 365 Days of Enduring Strength from God's Word to help others strengthen their walk of faith while finding a new level of freedom and redemption. Remember, your story and your breakthroughs are never just about you. As Christians know the love of God, live it out and serve the world, it's as though we're shouting, "This is what God is like, and He loves you!"

Ephesians 6:12 tells us we are in a war, and we must have wisdom in that war. Often we hear thoughts, and we need to ask, "Is it my thought, the enemy's thought or God's thought?" If it's God's thought, you want to tune in; if it's your thought, you may need to take it captive; if it comes from the enemy, discard it. Dawna De Silva's book, Warring with Wisdom, will help you discover the power and freedom that comes with spiritual warfare of spirit, soul and body! Learn to stay one step ahead of the enemy.

God talks to His people—and when God gives a prophecy, He is telling of things to come. Jennifer Eivaz's book, Prophetic Secrets: Learning the Language of Heaven, teaches how to distinguish the voice of God and become all He has created you to be. You can sharpen your gifting in order to minister healing, breakthrough and a supernatural display of God's glory. In a world desperate to hear the voice of God clearly—it is vital that His prophets give true expression to all that is on His heart. The gift of prophecy is for believers today!
