6 Signs of Power Hungry Leaders

God-ordained public service should never be about a person's desire for power but should arise out of a servant's heart to meet the needs of the people they represent.

Jesus modeled this when He washed the feet of His disciples and when He said that the greatest in the kingdom of God are those who serve (John 13; Mark 10:43). Of course, we have power hungry leaders in every sector of society—not just in politics—and this includes the church.

Power hungry people are the cause of numerous problems and divisions within the marketplace and church, and we need to be honest with them and speak to them when necessary, lest they sabotage great organizations.

Chuck Pierce: Navigating the Winds of Prophetic Change

In a recent YouTube video, Chuck Pierce shared a powerful message for the year 2024, delving into the significance of the Four Winds and their profound impact on the lives of believers.

The North Wind: Seasonal Change and the Manifest Presence of God

Pierce describes the North Wind as a harbinger of change and the manifest presence of God. He urges listeners to discern the spiritual significance of this Wind, stating, "That is going to cause a great upheaval with everything that is opposing the manifest presence of God." According to the Bible, the presence of God is transformative and powerful, symbolizing His authority and sovereignty. Proverbs 25:23 says, "The north wind brings rain, and a backbiting tongue an angry countenance."

Is This the Start of the Great Apostasy?

Has the great apostasy already started? What if the things we're seeing today are simply the signs of things that Scripture already foretold of its happening years ago?

In a nation that used to be so profoundly based on biblical principles, America today is almost unrecognizable from its founding. At the very basic level, the religious concept of God and a general sense of morality has always been part of the culture, and many of the ideologies and values today would have never been acceptable.

But not anymore.
