Cindy Jacobs Releases Urgent Prophetic Word for 2025

For Christians sensitive to what the Holy Spirit is saying today, Cindy Jacobs' urgent prophetic message is a clarion call to prayer, faith and action. Her recent video address weaves economic warnings, spiritual strategies and personal encouragement, urging believers worldwide to respond to these critical times with intercession and wisdom.

"There's a lot of fear right now," Jacobs acknowledges, "but while there is cause for concern, I want to say, how do you analyze a prophetic word?" Jacobs' emphasis on discernment sets the tone for her message. She notes prophecies about potential economic collapse—even a Great Depression—but explains that God often warns us so that His glory may be revealed through prayerful intervention.

Jonathan Cahn: Are We Witnessing the Signs of Revelation?

Best-selling author Rabbi Jonathan Cahn's powerful sermon on the signs of the coming apocalypse provides a sobering yet hope-filled reminder of the times we are living in. From ancient prophecies to modern realities, Cahn weaves together Scripture, history and current events to reveal the urgent need for the church to stay vigilant.

"The Antichrist will declare himself God in the Holy Place," Cahn warned, drawing from Matthew 24:15, where Jesus references Daniel's prophecy about the abomination of desolation. Cahn explained that this Holy Place points to the Temple in Jerusalem, the epicenter of God's prophetic timeline.

Cahn highlighted the unprecedented growth of the global population as another key sign. "Revelation speaks of multitudes and an army of 200 million," he said. "That was unimaginable at the time John wrote it, but today, it's not only possible; it's reality." Indeed, the world population has crossed 8 billion, fulfilling a context in which such prophecies could come to pass.
