

Morning Rundown: Gateway Church Update: What You Should Know

Here's a quick rundown of the top stories on :

Gateway Church Update: What You Should Know

Nearly six months after Gateway Church dealt with the ripples of the Robert Morris scandal, elders have been working to find a new senior pastor. While the hunt for the right pastor has gone on longer than expected, Max Lucado and Joakim Lundqvist have agreed to stay as interim pastors during this transitional time at Gateway.

In a statement to WFAA, the church said: "Gateway Church is actively searching for a new pastor. Joakim Lundqvist and Max Lucado will continue to serve in their roles as teaching pastors while Gateway searches for the right candidate to lead us as executive pastor."

According to the Christian Post, Lundqvist announced to the Gateway congregation that he would continue to stay with the church through the springtime.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

Prophetic Warning From Jenny Weaver: Don't Look Back

In a recent message, Jenny Weaver explained the importance of not looking back, but rather how to live and move forward with Christ.

"There's only two times that Jesus tells us to remember someone," Weaver says. "There's one time that Jesus says to ‘do this in remembrance of me,’ He’s talking about Himself. He says you need to take communion and take the Lord’s Supper to remember me, and then the other time, the second time that He says remember somebody, He says ‘remember Lot’s wife.’”

Lot’s wife is remembered in Genesis for turning into a pillar of salt after she discarded the warnings of the heavenly angels not to look back at the wicked Sodom and Gomorrah while she and her family were fleeing from its destruction. This points to God as holy and righteous, a divine being who has the right to correct and discipline anything that is not of Him or His nature.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up to date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

Signs in the Sky: Planets and Trump’s Inauguration Unite

As the United States and the entire world prepares for the inauguration of President-elect Donald Trump, there’s another massive event we can anticipate: the aligning of seven planets.

According to Discover Magazine, the first two planets we’ll be able to see align with one another are Venus and Saturn on Jan. 19, with Mars, Jupiter, Uranus and Neptune joining this alignment on Jan. 21., and Mercury will also be part of this by Feb. 28. Other reports point to this planetary alignment on Jan. 20.

This planetary alignment comes right in the middle of what just may be the most important event for America in 2025: the Jan. 20 inauguration of Trump as the 47th president.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!