Mandisa's Cause of Death Released

American Idol alum and Christian singer Mandisa's cause of death has been released.

An autopsy confirmed that the Grammy singer passed away from complications of class III obesity.

People noted that the 47-year-old singer's body was found at home by friends on April 18. In the autopsy report, she was "last known alive approximately three weeks" prior to when she was discovered.

'Fire of Revival' Spreads as Thousands Pack Stadiums

Another wave of massive revival gatherings took place across Europe this weekend, and more than a thousand people made decisions to follow Jesus Christ, this time in Hungary and Italy.

International evangelist Jean-Luc Trachsel says "the power of the Lord" moved at two huge conferences in Hungary and Italy as people were saved, healed and delivered.

"Fire of revival is spreading everywhere in Europe to hungry and thirsty people," he wrote on social media. "Stop to watch and dare why it's not coming to your place. Go to your knees and cry out to the Lord of the harvest to save your region."

3-Year-Old Son of Rodeo Star Taken Off Life Support

The 3-year-old son of rodeo star, Spencer Wright, has been removed from life support following a tragic accident.

As KWQC reported, on May 21, Wright's three-year-old son, Levi, got too close to a creek while riding his toy tractor. Levi was swept away down the water for almost one mile. After this tragic accident, Levi was unconscious.

Two days later, he opened his eyes. However, Levi's consciousness never fully came back, and his MRI showed major brain trauma.
