New Details Surface Over Steve Lawson Firing

New details have come out since Steven Lawson was removed from his position as the pastor of Trinity Bible Church of Dallas.

Phil Johnson, the executive director of Grace to You, who is also an elder of John MacArthur's Grace Community Church, gave the details of the "inappropriate relationship" which resulted in Lawson's dismissal from the ministry.

"Inappropriate is too ambiguous – as if someone merely caught them holding hands," Johnson wrote in a since-deleted X post which ChurchLeaders captured with a screenshot. "This was a 5-year relationship with strong romantic overtones. Both parties insist no literal fornication was involved, but their tie to one another was adulterous in spirit, if not in fact."
