

Morning Rundown: The 3 Wars of the Apocalypse Are Getting Dangerously Close

Here's a quick rundown of the top stories posted on :

The 3 Wars of the Apocalypse Are Getting Dangerously Close

"It could be a disaster of epic proportions. It could be the perfect storm." – Christopher McDonald in a scene from the movie, "The Perfect Storm."

Unless you have been hiding in a cave or underground for the past few months, or even weeks, you know that the propensity for major wars in many parts of the globe is happening. Iran has already "kickstarted" a multi-front Middle East war against Israel. News reports have it that Iran has already begun enriching uranium close to weapons-grade levels, according to a report released by the United Nations nuclear watchdog.

Charisma News also did a recent piece on the "Unholy Alliances" forming between China, Russian and Iran.

What Fears Keep You From Your Dreams?

I want to issue this challenge to you: Dare to dream!

We've got to be free to see, but we can't see if we're bound up in fear.

Have you ever been introduced to someone and not caught his or her name because you were so concerned about what you were going to say in response? That's intimidation. Once you are free of it, you can look at someone and think about that person rather than worrying about yourself. In that way, you can be God's hands and God's voice to people and build bridges of love, not fear.

Christian Rapper: Mainstream Hip-Hop Teaches Kids to 'Hate Jesus'

Christian performer Kevin "KB" Burgess is pleading with believers to embrace Christian hip-hop to reach people with the Gospel.

KB, who recently released a new book, "Dangerous Jesus: Why the Only Thing More Risky than Getting Jesus Right Is Getting Jesus Wrong," told Christian Headlines he believes contemporary hip-hop is teaching young people to "hate Jesus."

He also implored fellow Christians to put reservations to the side to support people like him trying to spread the Gospel message through Christian rap.

 Bring Charisma magazine home with a subscription today!