Trump Rejects Franklin Graham's Plea as Debate Draws Near

People of all backgrounds said 2024 was going to be a crazy year, and so far, it has lived up to that expectation.

And we haven't even arrived at the first presidential debate, yet.

This year's first, and potentially only, presidential debate is rapidly approaching as former President Donald Trump looks to continue his high-octane campaign against President Joe Biden since being criminally convicted of 34 felonies in New York City.

Is Pope Francis Really a 'Servant of Satan'?

The spiritual warfare taking place around the world continues to manifest in more ways, as the Roman Catholic Archbishop who called Pope Francis a "servant of Satan" now faces ex-communication from the Catholic Church.

Archbishop Carlo Maria Viganó posted on X that he has been summoned to the Vatican for an extrajudicial trial and is accused of "the crime of schism."

Il Dicastero per la Dottrina della Fede ha informato, attraverso un comunicato stampa, che l'Arcivescovo Carlo Maria Viganó (art. 2 SST; can. 1364 CIC)

'Only God': Couple Finds Jesus After Previously Getting Married as Gay, Transgender

"Only God can do that."

Those are the words of Lex Renick, a female who formerly identified as a transgender male before she and her husband—who used to identify as homosexual—came to faith in Jesus.

Nic and Lex Renick got married May 30, 2020, when both of them were living out their LGBT lifestyles. They have since turned away from their past decisions, with Lex restoring her female identify and returning to the name she was given at birth and Nic abandoning his homosexual identity.
