

‘Most Important Free Speech Case in Our Lifetime’: Supreme Court Hears Biden Censorship Case

The U.S. Supreme Court heard arguments on Monday in what’s being described as one of the biggest free speech cases in a generation.

The question at hand in Murthy v. Missouri was over whether the Biden administration went too far by pressuring social media sites to censor certain content.

Conservatives argue the administration did indeed overstep its bounds, censoring some Americans along the way.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

The targeted content included posts on COVID-19 and the 2020 election, among other topics.

For its part, the Biden administration framed its efforts as a crackdown on disinformation.

“It shouldn’t come as any surprise that we’re in regular touch with social media platforms, just like we’re in regular touch with all of you and your media outlets,” former White House Press Secretary Jen Psaki told reporters in July 2021.

Sen. Eric Schmitt (R-MO) sued the administration over the issue back when he was Missouri’s attorney general.

He believes the stakes couldn’t be higher for the country.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

“It’s the most important free speech case in our lifetime because it involves some of the highest ranking in our country colluding and coercing with some of the biggest social media companies in the world to suppress millions of posts,” Schmidt told Fox News. “Posts related to the Hunter Biden laptop story, the origins of COVID, the lab leak, efficacy of masks, and much more.”

To read the full story, visit our content partners at CBN News.

Reprinted with permission from . Copyright © 2024 The Christian Broadcasting Network Inc. All rights reserved.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!