

Mother Marches Through Target Store Decrying Perverted, Dangerous Practices

Forget avoiding Target by way of boycott; this mother boldly walked through the aisles to protest the store's evil practices.

"This is a deception," the mother yells as her children march silently behind her. "This is not love, and they profited by opening their bathrooms."

But that's not all she said. Watch the video to see more.