

Mystically Wired

 Mystically Wired

Ken Wilson

Thomas Nelson

Why do we sometimes pray without even realizing it? Ken Wilson explains that prayer is a function of need, not holiness. “Apparently, we pray because we need to, as though our brains are itching to pray,” Wilson writes. He offers fresh understanding on prayer and gives new insights to ancient disciplines such as silence, stillness, praying at daily intervals and reflecting on Scriptures.