

Nation of Islam Leader: I am the 'Messiah That Has Come to End This Civilization'

Nation of Islam leader Louis Farrakhan declared himself the "messiah that has come to end this civilization," despite President Barack Obama's public condemnation.

Farrakhan claims Obama publicly denounced him to gain the support of the Jewish lobby, which Farrakhan says is "civilization."

"They control Hollywood, they control media, they are the greatest of the bankers," he says. "So, when you want to be something in America in all the fields of human endeavor that have meaning, you've got to pass by them."

In the grander scheme, however, Farrakhan says he is the "winner."

And by winner, he claims he is the "messiah" both Jews and Muslims await.
