

Newly Uncovered David Wilkerson Prophecy Seems Eerily Close to Fruition

In 1974, David Wilkerson prophesied about an earthquake striking America. Given the earth's recent rumblings, Revelation in the News' Zach Drew and Andrew Bellers put his words into context.

"The United States is going to experience in the not-too-distant future the most tragic earthquakes in its history," Wilkerson wrote in The Vision. "One day soon, this nation will be reeling under the impact of the biggest news story of modern times. It will be coverage of the biggest, most disastrous earthquake in history."

Given recent events in Ecuador and Japan, Wilkerson's words could easily come to pass soon.
