

One Sure Sign of the End Times You Can't Miss

It's not blood moons or earthquakes, but another sign of the end times is already beginning to unfold before our eyes, Rabbi Jonathan Cahn says.

The sign? The ending of shades of gray in our culture.

"The gray is disappearing; it's splitting back up into what it's made of," Cahn says. "Gray is ending."

As we go forward, we'll see more black and more white as what was blended further separates, and darkness and light are polarized once more.

Watch the video to see Cahn explain.