

Pansexual Miley Cyrus Wants Us to Worship This False Goddess

It doesn't take a prophet to see that the wicked one is using Miley Cyrus to lead a generation astray. Her lewd dancing and pansexual status appeal to a millennial demographic—and she's turning their hearts toward all manner of perversion.

On the Ellen DeGeneres show this week, the former Disney star flat out called Hillary Clinton a goddess. A goddess is a female deity in polytheistic religions with supernatural powers or attributes—and they are worshipped.

We know Miley is not worshipping the God of her father and mother, and seems bent toward worshipping any other god. Recently, it was revealed she's showcasing false gods all over her Los Angeles home. So this shouldn't be surprising. But the implications of her twisted devotion to her new favorite goddess are troubling for the nation.

The 23-year-old Miley made her devotion to Hillary abundantly clear. Meanwhile, she characterizes Donald Trump as a “nasty guy” but exhorted college kids at George Mason University to vote for her goddess of choice.

“And these are your choices, and it's terrifying if someone besides Hillary Clinton—we shouldn't even say the name—becomes president,” Miley told DeGeneres. “So I think she's a total goddess, and I just love her. And I'm really excited to see her for the next four—maybe eight—years.”

Some have argued Hillary is under the influence of false gods—namely demons like Jezebel. But make no mistake. Hillary is not a goddess and, without a Damascus Road encounter with the Lord, if elected, would surely lead our nation further into idolatry.

Although I'm not endorsing a candidate, I'm certainly not endorsing a goddess.
