

Pastor Delivers Powerful Message to the Men Who Killed His Wife, Unborn Baby

A pastor who was widowed after his wife and unborn baby were murdered back in 2015 recently delivered a passionate and moving message about the men who are allegedly responsible for the deaths.

Davey Blackburn, whose wife Amanda and unborn baby girl were killed just over two years ago, noted in a November 8 blog post that Jalen Watson, one of the men on trial for the deaths, recently entered a plea agreement.

Blackburn said that he believes the agreement is the “right thing” and that the prosecution has kept him up to date about developments in the case. But he also offered up some stirring comments about justice and the futures of the accused. {eoa}
