I have been appointed to lead the White House Faith Office. The office will work alongside Attorney General Pam Bondi to combat discrimination against Christians in federal institutions and ensure religious liberties are upheld across the country!

"I'm also creating the White House Faith Office led by Pastor Paula White," Trump said. "In the White House, we will protect Christians in our schools and in our military and our government, in our workplaces, hospitals and in our public squares. And we will bring our country back together as one nation under God with liberty and justice for all."

Trump emphasized that throughout history, leaders have sought to impose on people's religious liberties. At the same time, he points out, the greatest of nations always have a strong connection to God.

"Without God, we are isolated and alone, but with God the Scripture tells us, 'All things are possible,'" he said.
