

Pentecost Prophecy: God Is Dealing With Islamic Terrorism

On Pentecost Sunday, Hank Kunneman, senior pastor of Lord of Hosts Church in Omaha, shared a word from the Lord with his congregation about how God is dealing with Islamic terrorists.

He wrote that word down and has since shared it with the readers of Elijah List. The following is the complete message:

“For this day marks a day where you celebrate, across the earth, the outpouring of My Spirit,” God says. “That was not an event that just took place once, but it has been happening since, and it is happening and shall happen at a greater degree.

Do Not Think I Will Do Nothing

“I speak now to you and to those who are in fear because of the events of terror that have taken place in the earth. Do not think that I am doing nothing because there seems to be no restraint, or little restraint, upon those who inflict terror. But this is what I would say to you: Remember the days when a nation was afflicted with terror, and they were afraid at the place of the Red Sea?”

But God says, “As terror afflicted the hearts of the leader, Moses, and the people of Israel, what did I do to stop, to abate, to abort the spirit of terrorism that day? Listen now, these words of hope to this generation and to the generation of your children: I reached through the cloud of My glory. What am I saying to you?” says the Spirit of God.

“I’m saying that if I reached through and stopped the terror that afflicted a whole nation through glory, I will do it once again. I am reaching through the outpouring of My Spirit and glory that is coming, and it is coming fast. I shall reach through My glory, and I will stop the enemy in his tracks and those who cooperate to inflict terror upon the nation and the nations of the earth.”

Out of the Mouths of Babes

God says, “Let Me give you a secret on how I will do it. For I declare to you that out of the mouth of babes and sucklings I have perfected praise (see Ps. 8:2). Why? To still the avenger. This is what I say to you who are afraid: for there is a generation of the youth and there is a generation of the young, and oh they are being proselytized by those who think that they are carrying out the will of one who is called Allah. Who is Allah? It is not I.

“Let it be settled and let it be known, for they shall not, in this coming generation and this season, for seasons come and seasons go and seasons change, this season of terror and war shall not be always a future season for the people of this nation or the United Kingdom,” says the Spirit of God, “or the nations of the earth.

“For there is a generation of the young that is arising, and they will say, ‘Yeshua, Yeshua, Yeshua.’ And they will be converted from Islam, they will be converted from Buddhism, they will be converted from Hinduism and they will be converted from heathenism, intellectualism. They will be filled with My Spirit, and I will do this to still the avenger, and I will do it to reach through the cloud of glory so that the things you are afraid of today, you will not be of afraid in your future, for peace shall be the portion of what I will release to a generation of your children, but also in a coming season that is coming fast,” says the Spirit of God.

“Speak in tongues, pray in the spirit and watch Me as I’ll pour My plan that is greater than any terror from any entity. I win always, and I’ll win and am winning concerning this,” says the Spirit of God.

Since that word was first released on June 4, the day after the London Bridge attacks, there have been a number of developments that show the Lord’s hand is indeed at work:

- June 6: An attacker was prevented from harming any civilians at Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris. A police officer received minor injuries, and the attacker was shot and killed.
- June 19: A car filled with gas canisters was stopped by a police van before it could explode at the Champs-Élysées in Paris. The attacker was killed, but no one else was injured.
- June 20: A knife-wielding Palestinian was shot and killed by Israeli security forces before he could attack Israeli soldiers in the West Bank.
- June 2: A suicide bombing attack at the Central Station in Brussels was stopped when soldiers guarding the station shot and killed the terrorist after he set off an explosive device that didn’t injure anyone.
- June 21: A man shouting “Allahu akbar” stabbed and seriously wounded a police officer at the Bishop International Airport in Flint, Michigan, but was apprehended before he could hurt anyone else. {eoa}
