

Perry Stone's Warning to Joe Biden

Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and those who love it will eat its fruit (Prov. 18:21).

In a new, timely message to Joe Biden, Perry Stone is warning about the power we have behind the words that we speak.

"President Biden made this statement about Donald Trump and said he would stop him from being president," Stone says. "'He'll be president over my dead body.'"

Stone says that while Biden meant this metaphorically, there is great power behind all the words we proclaim over our lives.

"Here's my warning. The life and death that's in the tongue is important because angels are released in Scripture by the words of your mouth. When Daniel was praying and couldn't get an answer to prayer, the angel Gabriel said in chapter 10 of Daniel, 'I come now Daniel for your words,'" Stone says.

"Daniel's words or prayers, even though they were being delayed, the angel Gabriel said, 'it's your words that have released me to you to bring you an answer,'" he continues.

Because the words we speak can activate the spiritual realm, we must be careful to only speak life over ourselves, and not death.

"You should never ever say, 'he'll do that over my dead body,'" Stone says. "In the spirit world of demonic powers, they also operate off of the words that are said."

Stone points out how the demonic forces will watch what we do as well and try to use that to their advantage.

“As Jesus said, ‘by your words are you justified and by your words you are condemned,’ says Stone.

Biden made these statements about Trump to an audience in Detroit, Michigan, which was posted by the White House on July 12 of this year.

“Trump said, if he wins, he’ll be dictator on day one. He means it folks,” Biden says. “We’re not going to let that happen. Over my dead body will it happen.”

Since these statements, Biden has dropped out of the presidential race and recovered from falling ill with COVID-19.

Let this be a reminder that the things we choose to lift up and acknowledge are the very things that will live. If we choose darkness, we let darkness live. However, if we choose the light of Christ, it will go forth and spread to all creation.
