

Prepare to Get Soaked With Wave of Holy Spirit's Healing Power

You have heard me share a prophetic word from God about a tsunami wave of healing hitting the Western world. God told us that that no longer would His people ask, "Why not healing in the Western world?" He told us that in this wave there would be healing of all types, even unusual healings. He assured us that this healing wave was for everyone and anyone who was willing to get wet with this healing power. We were warned that along with this tsunami wave of healing there would be a strong undertow of unbelief, but that we were to keep our eyes fixed upon Him and expect to get wet.

I am telling you that this end-times wave of healing power has hit the Western shores. A mighty wave of healing power is moving quickly throughout the entire earth, including the Western world. As I minister throughout the earth, I am witnessing a surge of the power of the Holy Spirit being released in greater measure to His people.

I was just in Sweden last weekend, and many people were instantly healed of many things. One woman was bound to a wheelchair, and instantly, she was healed and walked. Her husband pushed the wheelchair out door after the meeting while she walked out in her own strength. When the people witnessed this one miracle, their faith for their own miracles was activated and they readily received them.

Next to her was a woman suffering from fibromyalgia. She too was instantly released from the power of this disease. Then numerous people were quickly delivered and healed from deafness. And many backs, necks, shoulders, knees and feet were completely healed too.

Two weekends, earlier I was in North Carolina, and a woman had been suffering from ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease), and it had her bound to a wheelchair for 12 years. She could not stand or walk on her own. In fact, there were so many things she could no longer do, but the power of the Holy Spirit in this tsunami wave of healing overtook her, and she too got up from that wheelchair and walked. And in this meeting as well, so many people were instantly healed from so many diseases and ailments.

There is so much healing power being released in this tsunami wave of healing that I have taken to minister to people in groups according to the disease, for example, deafness. Whether the people are suffering from complete or partial deafness, in one ear or both ears, I have them all stand together in a line and I minister to the entire group, as I would with one person.

I renounce the spirit of deafness, and I release the Spirit of life into their ears, and prophetically command that their ears be recreated, realigned and are healed and made whole. We activate our faith, they all close their eyes and I shut off the mics and walk farther and farther away from them and ask them if they can hear me. And they do.

Whatever your need is, trust God, and expect to get wet with this amazing healing power of the Holy Spirit during these last days.

For a message about the tsunami wave of healing coming to Alaska, listen to the podcast below.

Becky Dvorak is a prophetic healing evangelist and the author of DARE to Believe, Greater Than Magic and The Healing Creed. Visit her at .

This article originally appeared at .