

Prophecy: God Is Laying a New Foundation for America

Angie Stolba, who runs the Living With Confidence Ministries with her husband, Jeff, desires to see people walk in complete freedom and restoration. She has a genuine passion for God's Word and intercessory prayer.

Recently, the Lord spoke to Stolba, the author of Dealing With the Root of Rejection, about the direction of our country following last week's general election. It's a message she shared with other Christ followers at The Elijah List.

America is in a massive rebuilding process, she wrote, noting that old structures and systems were being toppled as God establishes His new foundation. Like a home remodeling project, she wrote about how "things can quickly get messy" at the onset, but it is vital to what the Lord is building.

"As it has been said, the Lord has chosen Donald Trump to be His wrecking ball," she wrote. "God is going to use this next president to bulldoze a system that will no longer be efficient in this season. The Lord is raising up Trump in this specific hour; He has placed within this man a warrior's spirit that will refuse to fear and be intimidated by politics or human agenda."

Her prophecy begins:

I hear God saying:

I have given Donald Trump the ability to set his face like flint (Is. 50:7) and not be afraid of the mess or stirring up the tradition of man.

With any tear-down, at first, there is debris everywhere. However, after hard work, a new structure is built where the rubble once was. My hand is on Donald Trump and on this country, and I have raised up a leader for such a time as this. I have given him a strong backbone and have placed a fearless spirit within him. Trust what I am doing through this man, and continue to keep your hearts in a posture of prayer and intercession.

Stolba said that in spite of the victory in last week's elections, Christians need to keep their eyes focused on Jesus. She said the Lord is telling her we must all stand in unity in this time of great transition.

"Yet even in the victory and celebration, do not be lulled back to sleep," she wrote. "There is still much work to be done. The enemy is not happy that godly principles are being defended. While we are not to fear, we are to be wise and in tune with what is going on in the spirit realm."
