

Prophecy: The Spirit of Delusion on America Will Come Crashing Down

A lot has transpired in the last few weeks in America. With the reversal of Roe vs. Wade and the decisions on abortion reverting back to the states, many have mistaken abortion as a Constitutional right.

The Supreme Court's ruling is a sign that God is breaking through no matter what! More landmark decisions are continuing from the Supreme Court that will anger political and spiritual powers, but they are righteous decrees. Christians should continue to stand on Scripture, pray and decree God's truths for our nation.

Intercessors are rising up and praying in the Spirit with authority as crisis after crisis is headlined on most news outlets and political vitriol is constant on social media. However, the Lord sends His prophetic words to foretell what is coming. He always gives insight into what His Spirit is doing behind the scenes as He dispels darkness and raises up a pure bride.

John Natale, a prophetic minister, recently heard from the Lord. He has been given mandates and directives from the Lord for America. On June 4, John released this prophetic word, saying, "Holy Spirit is about to do something very significant in the last stages of the second quarter. The spirit of delusion is being allowed to operate a little longer, then it will come crashing down. The enemy has nothing left to give. His plans have been compromised, eradicated and dissolved. What you see is the final performance of what has been watched and bridled for many seasons. Take notice of sudden pockets of My glory, as it manifests in specific parts of the nation and reveals angelic activity. Keep your eyes fixed on Florida, California and Nebraska. They have been prepared to reveal supernatural activity.”

John had also previously prophesied about the United States saying, “There is great movement in the spirit realm, as angels have been released to stand guard in strategic locations across the land. For there is one who expects a victory to be imminent, but the plans have already been witnessed by My gaze. They are powerless, and have no authority. It has already been spoken that these things shall not continue. For light overcomes darkness, and the darkness cannot comprehend it! You have seen many things take place that changed everything, but that didn’t change My plans for this nation. In everything, there is a time, a season. And in this, it can be a mystery that is not always understood. What is important is that you stay strong, stay alert and see things with spiritual eyes.”

He continued, declaring, “Many have settled, letting go because of weariness. But I will revive their faith! This nation will return to a place of honor once again! The things that took place were allowed to come to fruition for many reasons. It revealed many things, many hearts that became cold, lifeless and divided. But what was once good, shall be again.

“So prepare your jars, just as the prophet spoke to the woman who thought the end was near. Fresh oil is coming, and more than you can imagine. So, rejoice, for what was taken, shall be returned. So as the enemy comes to steal, kill and destroy, I Am here to give life, and give it abundantly. The season is nearly at hand, the time draws near and many know that change is coming.”

The word concluded saying, “It is one that cannot be stopped, nor hindered. There is one who knows what he is called to do. For he has been active, strategic and sharper than in the previous season.

“So, keep your attention on him, for he will make a very profound declaration. For he is not weary; he has been given a double portion of grace, peace and confidence. For he knows the outcome already, and knows that in its time, the curtain rises once again.”
