

Prophetic Dream: Closed Doors Are Opening for You

A few nights ago, I had a simple yet profound, instructional dream from the Lord.

In the dream, I was standing in what at first seemed to be an intersection of a very busy inner-city district. I could barely see around me because there were cars coming from many directions with blinding lights. I didn't feel unsafe, but I did discern that these cars represented the vehicles of men's purposes and the vehicles of culture, movements and ministries. They were both the vehicles created by man that carried zero anointing, and also the vehicles of movements anointed by God to usher in the kingdom of God to the earth.

Then the scene suddenly changed, and I was yet again in the middle of something that was moving around me. I found that instead of a busy intersection, I was in a room of moving doors that were swirling all around me.

I have had similar dreams and visions before, but this time I felt an urgency in the Spirit and heard, "Speak to the doors!" But what are the doors, and why are they moving? I believe these doors are both the doors of the enemy that need to be shut and the doors of heaven that need to be opened. Their movement represents both the movement or transition taking place and also the urgency of the hour for the church to rise up and command things to align according to the plans of heaven.

So, with that in mind, I want to prophesy over you but also encourage you to prophesy with me in these areas:

Speak to Slammed-Shut Doors

I prophesy over the areas of your life that seem as though they are completely shut and out of reach right now. Maybe you came into 2020 full of promise and expectation but have felt as though, one after the other, doors have continued to slam shut around you, both in the natural and in the spiritual. Maybe these are doors in your business or ventures where what you were planning now seems impossible or has stopped moving forward. Maybe it felt like these were the doors God was leading you to, and now you feel confused as to why they are suddenly dead ends. Maybe this is where you are doing all you can do to stand and still it feels like nothing is budging.

I prophesy that those closed and impossible doors are opening! Don't give up yet. Don't throw in the towel even if it looks as though there is no way forward. God is going to provide a way forward where there seems to be no way!

I hear the Lord saying, "Get out your song, release your cry and speak to the doors!" Do this and you will lift out of the rut you feel you are in. Every single obstacle surrounding you is going to be level ground because God is turning the key of favor that will cause all doors that you need to swing wide open! I prophesy that every door that God wants open, be opened now, in Jesus' name. Pray with authority and declare, "Nothing can stop the doors opening that God has destined for me, in Jesus' name!"

Speak to the Doors of Delay

We have entered a time of acceleration where the spirit realm has increased, and we can see in the earth that what normally would happen or transpire over decades is happening in a shorter span of time. The earth is experiencing birth pangs, and God is preparing us for the greatest harvest. So, what's in the enemy's arsenal in a time of rapid momentum? Delay. That's why you feel that strange and frustrating tension between your spirit—which is moving ahead in leaps in bounds and sensing the movement—and your head, which is constantly dealing with the confusion of seeing earthly doors of delay.

For many, it feels like everything in front of them is slow and tedious. Maybe this is where you feel like you are always taking the long way around, the delayed route or the more complicated path. Maybe for you, the doors of delay are the pressures, unusual roadblocks or the legal red tape and processes where you continue to find yourself stuck in a holding pattern. These doors need to be shut. The enemy can no longer intercept your promises; it's a violation, and you need to shut all points of delay. You need to command the angel armies of heaven to bring you the breakthrough you need right now.

Speak to the Doors of Resource

I recently woke up feeling that I was to pray over the opening of the doors of extreme resource. In other words, I saw that God wants us to experience His faithfulness not just in this season and right now, but also in the future and the past.

God wants to pour out such a blessing that will square away the robbery and famines of the past and also pour out the needed resources for now and into the future.

I see that the doors of resources go far beyond finances and open all the puzzle pieces for those who need certain areas to come together for their kingdom purpose. With this come the wisdom, strategies and blueprints to know how to step into new ventures; embrace certain partnerships; invest, buy and begin new things. The enemy has wanted this door closed because he has been working hard to starve out Christians so they forsake God's door of resource and create Ishmaels in orchestrating their own.

I prophesy for those doors to open now in Jesus' name! Pray with me that every door or favor and resource that the body of Christ needs will be opened, in Jesus' name! {eo}
