

Prophetic Warning Ignored, and Now Boy Scouts to Declare Bankruptcy

The Wall Street Journal broke the news that the Boy Scouts of America is preparing to declare bankruptcy. Decisions made by their leadership, compromising standards and values in place for over 100 years, have backfired and now blown up in their face.

The tragedy is not only the message sent through their caving to aggressive LGBTQ activists but the effect it has had on families and boys throughout America who withdrew in sadness and confusion.

Prophetic warnings given through and other sources went unheeded. Now the catastrophic consequences have surfaced but the creative alternative that arose like a phoenix out of the ashes should be honored and embraced by multitudes.

Watch this three-minute video that continues to help us be biblically informed and hopeful for the future of our boys and families.
