

Ray Comfort Says He Doesn't Want to Hear From Christians at Upcoming TPUSA Event

Ray Comfort made a “huge mistake” – and he doesn't want to repeat it.

The New Zealand-born evangelist recently held a question-and-answer session through Turning Point USA at Cal State Fullerton, where he faced hecklers who challenged him on Christianity.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

There was one problem, though. He said he didn't make it clear enough from the start that he didn't want to hear from people who were already believers. Instead, he told CBN News, he wanted to “guard” the microphone for agnostics, atheists and skeptics.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

He'll make sure of that at his next TPUSA event at University of California, Irvine, on Nov. 13.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

“We'll guard that microphone,” Comfort explained, “and say, ‘This is for atheists, this is for skeptics, this is for unbelievers, because we're here for you. And, if you're a Christian and you've got problems, we've got someone over there who can minister to you and give you literature and pray with you, but this is reserved for hecklers.'"

To read the full story, visit our content partners at Faithwire.

Reprinted with permission from . Copyright © 2025 The Christian Broadcasting Network Inc. All rights reserved.