

Rodney Howard-Browne: Threat on Trump Is 'Physical'

During an interview with TRUNews host Rick Wiles, Christian pastor Rodney Howard-Browne, the head of Revival Ministries International, shared further details about a three-hour meeting he had on Tuesday July 11 with a man he described as "one of the senior ranking members of Congress" and added that his recollection of the conversation prompted the U.S. Secret Service to visit his church on Wednesday, demanding the lawmakers name.

"Was he saying politically immobilized or?" Rick Wiles asked Pastor Howard Browne.

When asked by Rick Wiles if he took the threat relayed to him by the unnamed lawmaker to mean a political immobilization or a physical threat on the President's life, Pastor Howard-Browne responded resoundingly that he interpreted the threat to mean "physically."

"No, physically, no, physically" Pastor Howard-Browne responded.

During a sermon he delivered on Sunday, July 23 at The River at Tampa Bay Church, Pastor Rodney Howard-Browne said his source for the information, a Congressman who has served in the House since 1996, told him there was an active "plot on Capitol Hill to take the president out."

"I said you mean by impeachment or by indictment—he said no, to take him out. He will be removed suddenly from office," Pastor Howard-Browne said, ominously adding that the congressman noted: "You can read between the lines."

Pastor Howard-Browne also claimed the Congressman said: "There's nothing we can do to stop it."

The South African pastor has called for Christians globally to “pray around the clock for the protection of the president.”

Pastor Howard-Browne was responsible for taking the viral photo of pastors laying their hands on President Donald Trump and praying over him in the Oval Office on July 10th. {eo}
