

Sadie Robertson Huff Teams Up With 'When Calls the Heart' Producer for New Series

Former Duck Dynasty star and Dancing With the Stars runner-up Sadie Robertson Huff has landed a contract with When Calls the Heart producer Brad Krevoy to turn her book, Life Just Got Real, into a scripted series.

The outspoken Christian author and speaker has written several books geared toward navigating life as a Christian young woman. Life Just Got Real will serve as Robertson Huff's first producing gig, and the soon-to-be mom will make guest appearances on the show.

The show will follow "two teenage girls from different backgrounds and opposite lifestyles who discover there is more to friendship than meets the eye," the book's synopsis reads.

Robertson Huff co-wrote Life Just Got Real with Cindy Coloma, which focuses on Louisiana 16-year-old A.J. Smith and Tennessee-based Kate Kelly. When both Smith and Kelly join the reality show Real Life, they realize they must stay true to themselves.

Robertson Huff took to social media to share the news of her new series with her Instagram followers: