

Satanic High Priestess Was No Match for God

Former satanic high priestess Lisa Gwinn says she first sought out satanism to escape an abusive home environment.

“That victimization will often make you look for power and control, for ways to not become a victim anymore,” Gwinn tells Sid Roth. She says the enemy used this to draw her into the occult. But God wasn’t satisfied to leave her alone. Watch the video to see her testimony.

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS