

Should We Be Stocking Up on Food Supplies?

As our culture propels down the prophesied end-time road as described in biblical books like Daniel, Revelation and Matthew, John Shorey and Jim Bakker have some tips for survival.

“Food will be the number one, I don’t know of anything else that will be number one, as far as the physical needs of the human body is going to need food to survive,” Bakker says.

But that doesn’t mean you need to line your pantry with items like vanilla pudding and mac-and-cheese.

Watch the video to see what they suggest.