

Spirit-Filled Doctor Reveals Eye-Opening Truths About Coronavirus

There's a lot of fear swirling around about the coronavirus. But is all the panic really warranted, or is much of it being spread by myth and misinformation?

To help answer these questions (and more), I recently hosted a great friend and Spirit-filled physician from Washington, D.C., Dr. Leo Carney, for a truth-revealing, fear-dispelling interview about the research and realities of the coronavirus.

While it's important to mention that in this interview Dr. Carney does not speak on behalf of any organization, he does speak with unique insight into the thoughts and theories coming out of our nation's capital.

In our in-depth, but easy-to-understand discussion, Dr. Carney uncovers eye-opening facts about coronavirus that are sure to put you at ease and fill you with peace.

Watch the video to learn the surprising answers to the following questions:

- What's the likelihood of contracting coronavirus if you're directly exposed to it?
- How does coronavirus differ from other viruses like the flu, and why is it made to sound so much more dangerous?
- What are social distancing and the government's shut-down measures actually meant to do?
- Will staying inside really make the virus go away?
- Has God designed the body to fight coronavirus on its own?

- How should Christian parents adjust to protect their children, physically and mentally?
- Should Christians obey the government's orders to isolate?
- What's the most trustworthy source we should look to for information?
- Is coronavirus an end-times plague?
- How are Christians uniquely equipped to provide the cure?
- How long will the pandemic last?

And there's so much more.

Jesus encouraged, "The truth will set you free" (John 8:32, NLT). It's my prayer that the truths revealed in this interview help to free you from fear and fill you with hope.
