

Spiritually Happy Men: Habit No. 3

We live in a culture that relentlessly pushes us to think about ourselves. We look out for No. 1.

What do you need to be happy? How about this new car, new relationship, new hobby, new gun, new pleasure? With so many people and so much stuff all aimed at our happiness, why are so many men so miserable? Perhaps it's because we were made for more.

Join David Delk as we look at why orienting our lives around serving others actually brings a deep and lasting joy. We'll give you practical takeaways that can make a difference right away. It's going to be a great day!

The Big Idea: You need to have a deep, intentional, spiritual impact in one person's life. (You'll love it and God gets the glory.)

Click here to watch or listen to the Bible study, and see Habit No. 1 and Habit No. 2 {eo}

Patrick Morley is the founder of Man in the Mirror Ministries. For the original article, visit here.